This use case diagram illustrates how different actors interact with the SkillForge platform. Students can browse courses, enroll, complete lessons and quizzes, and earn certificates, while instructors create and manage course content. Admins oversee platform operations, and an analytics module monitors system performance, ensuring a comprehensive view of platform functionality.